Design, Sustainability and Comfort Thirty Years of Working Hard

Quadrifoglio Group starts the 2021 celebrating its 30 years of experience in manufacturing and designing solutions for office, hospitality and contract markets. Right from the start, the company sought to offer design products with increased user comfort and wellbeing. This focus remains unchanged today, although the range is far more extensive and the approach is far more international.

The Group, indeed, has six showrooms strategically located across European capitals, and it sells its products in over 80 countries worldwide. The headquarters remain in northern Italy, near Treviso, where it has a 35,000 sq. m plant with adjacent managerial and operational offices staffed by over 150 employees and partners. In the last decade, Quadrifoglio has expanded to include Offisit, a business division focusing on special ergonomic chairs for the office and hospitality sectors, and Karboxx, a company for lighting solutions.

The organizational structure of Quadrifoglio Group is at the heart of its ability to be the only partner that meets every customer's needs, providing quality, customized services that cater to the numerous needs of the office and contract markets. This comprehensive array of solutions combined with the professional consultant services offered by the internal team of specialists are crucial to ensuring Quadrifoglio can meet customers' needs from the quote right through to delivery, with the design, production and assembly stages at the core of this process.

Of course, such manufacturing does have an impact on the environment and so, in recent years, the company has prioritized a sustainable approach built on the adoption of responsible policies. This has seen improved workplace health and safety, the implementation of processes for low impact product manufacturing and the use of raw materials sourced locally where possible. This clear vision is taken forward with determination and tenacity across the entire corporate organization.

Today, the continued success of the company is driven by focusing on people, sustainability and innovation in terms of functionality and comfort. These have always been at the core of the company and will continue to be, driving every strategic decision.

These values, along with the company's perseverance and professionalism, were critical to the Group becoming Regional Supporter of the 2021 Alpine World Ski Championships in Cortina d'Ampezzo, making it the partner for furnishing the Lounge & Hospitality areas. In this year of 30th anniversary, this recognition is like the cherry on top, providing concrete proof of the journey over the last three decades as the Group has continued to grow without ever betraying its original essence and focus on quality.
